Well equipped for a mass casualty incident

The STAVANGER® V2000 is our mass casualty incident bag and was designed to fit perfectly in compartment 21, according to the uniform state standard for ambulances in Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany, 2018. The current danger situation as well as the potential increase in offences involving armed violence mean that, in addition to standardised first aid equipment, additional equipment for tactical emergencies is becoming increasingly important.

Various elastic loops and a large transparent pocket provide enough space to hold equipment for a mass casualty incident. The transparent pocket in the lid of the bag can hold the documents needed for triaging. An optional clipboard can be stored in the compartment on the back.
