STAVANGER C2000

Magnet system for individual placement

Compact with plenty of storage

The STAVANGER® C2000 is particularly popular with doctors and first aiders, e.g. in sports and leisure. Despite its compact dimensions, the emergency backpack impresses with a large amount of space inside. The right side, equipped with a magnet system, can be fitted with the system and container modules. The left side has two fixed compartments with 2-way zips, e.g. for holding an AED. For better visibility inside the compartment, one is equipped with robust transparent film, while the other has additional rubber loops for other utensils on the top.
